Key findings

The portfolio contains 100 scenarios. Planned campaign investment is ■7,574,000, with expected revenue of ■16,692,199 and a revenue forecast of ■200,989,500. The blended lead-to-conversion rate is 10.29% and portfolio campaign ROI is 120.4%. Average market demand, product readiness and channel effectiveness are 89.9, 92.6 and 89.6, respectively, while average launch risk is 26.1.

Strategic analysis

High-priority launch scenarios should receive the first allocation of incremental budget, especially where demand/readiness/effectiveness scores are strong and risk is moderate or low. Enterprise scenarios offer higher revenue per conversion but generally require heavier campaign investment. SME scenarios offer broader reach and lower-cost acquisition opportunities. Channel-level performance should be used to reallocate spend rather than treating all channels equally.

Data-quality control

P097 contains '574?' in Expected Revenue. This field was treated as missing for numeric calculations; it should be validated before final financial sign-off.
